Eirgrid – Powering Up Dublin Project

- Dublin's electricity infrastructure is old and needs to be upgraded to service the future needs of the city and its residents.
- Eirgrid are responsible for maintaining the electricity infrastructure in Ireland, so they are embarking on a major investment project to upgrade the network over the next number of years.
- Phase 1 involves laying 50km of new cables across the city to provide a stronger network.
- This includes establishing links between the key substations in Dublin, one of which is to link Poolbeg with Carrickmines.
- There are different options available on what route will be taken, so members of the GRA Committee have joined an Eirgrid Community Forum to represent the interests of residents.

Priorities for 2024

- Continue to lobby public representatives on the traffic issues impacting on residents.
- Continue to lobby Council for the development of the playground facilities.
- Continue to work with both DLRCC and the Gardaí through the Policing Forums to maintain a high quality of living for our residents.
- Continue to participate on Eirgrid Community Forum to protect the interests of residents.

If I have an issue to raise, what are my options?

- You can e-mail the Residents Association or talk to us in person at one of our monthly clean-ups.
- You can ring DLRCC directly yourself (Ph: 01 2054700) or go on to their website (dlrcoco.ie) and register your issue with them – you will receive a case number called a CRM and then someone from the relevant department will contact you.
- You can contact a local councillor or TD via e-mail.
